

2010 SHCPS Big Summer Read

We all want our children to read because it is a lifelong skill they will need and hopefully come to love BUT sometimes we need to find other ways to motivate them to read until they learn to love it. So take advantage of some of the wonderful opportunities out there this summer.

- Enter the RED SOX Summer Reading Game and READ your way to FENWAY. For details and entry forms go to www.readingmatters.org
- GO GREEN at the WORCESTER PUBLIC LIBRARY Summer Reading Program. It is FREE, starts June 15th – August 4th and for every book you read you receive a ticket for a chance to win reading incentive prizes. Ask at any branch (Children's Desk) to receive your baggie and get started.
- TD Bank Summer Reading Program - Looking for a way to make summer reading even more fun for your kids? It's easy! Read 10 books this summer. Open the Summer Reading Form from the website <http://www.tdbank.com/summerreading/> Fill in the form with the names of the books they've read. Print the form. Take the form to your nearest TD Bank location to get $10!
- BORDERS has just announced the 2010 "Double-Dog Dare" Summer Reading Challenge for kids. All children 12 and under are eligible to get a free book at Borders, Borders Express, or Waldenbooks by reading at least 10 books this summer. Keep track of the books you read on the Double Dog Dare form. Go to <http://media.bordersstores.com/pdf/summerreading.pdf> to download a copy.
- Scholastic Summer Challenge. Join the summer reading challenge to read four or more books over the summer. Plus, play games, earn points, and participate in breaking the WORLD RECORD! www.scholastic.com/summer
- 2010 Barnes & Noble Summer Reading - Earn a FREE BOOK when you read 8 any books. Go to the website below to create your passport and play fun activities. Turn in your completed passport at any Barnes & Noble to pick up your free book www.barnesandnoble.com/summerreading
