Should children have to make up missed days due to the ice storm?

By: Jasmine Hollins

NO, because the power went out and we wouldn't be able to come to school. The roads were bad, dangerous and slick.

Yes, because there could have been things we missed that we might need in the future. We wont get the education that we need.

Springtime: Venus Twum

Springtime
Its springtime no more snow,
Flowers grow.
Birds come back,
And animals snack.
What's that I hear?
Is that a deer?
Crunch, crunch, crunch
Munch, munch, munch

It's springtime I'm swimming in the lake,
And my dad is outside cooking steak.
I'm out of school,
It's really cool!
The bees are buzzing

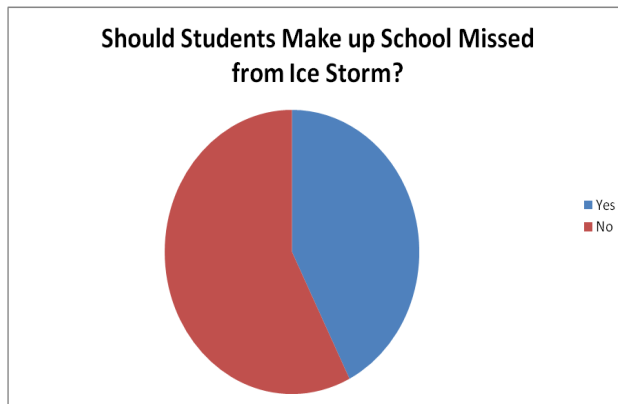

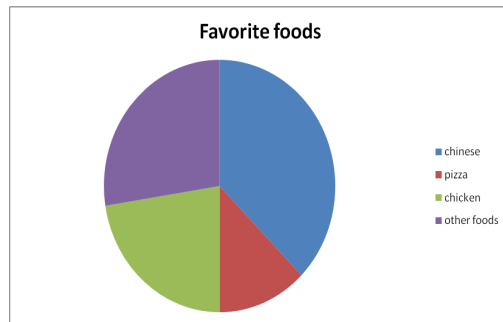

busily in the backyard,
Oh no my little sister just ate a bucket of lard!
Oh I'm having so much fun,
Sitting outside in the sun!

Its springtime I can smell the fresh air,
And I can't just waste my time sitting in a chair.
I have to do my spring cleaning
If I don't know pain I'll find out its meaning.
Oh no the clouds are gray,
I hope it doesn't start to spray.

Schools boring I don't want to go back
I think I'll have myself a snack.

Life

Many years ago before human existence there was a battle between the gods. The god of good and warm air Jimineas, wanted to bestow light upon the world. The goddess of bad and cold air, Krata wanted the world to remain dark and cold. Jimineas and Krata have a meeting upon the mountain overlooking the world. Jimineas wants there to be light, because it will make him happy. Krata says that she would be happy if it remained dark. Jimineas says look I will make it bright, see it is beautiful and warm. Krata says NO! Look it is cold and dark, now it is truly beautiful! The rumble of their voices creates and uprising of the wind in the distance.

As their tempers rise, the world flashes from light to dark and the winds start swirling fiercely. The hot air and cold air meet causing a swirling cyclone to form. As the cyclone gains power it picks up sand, dirt, water, two pebbles, bark, and sticks. As it twists and turns around a form takes shape. The water and bark merge together creating a head, two pebbles form eyes, the sand and dirt create the skin and body of the figure. Krata and Jimineas continue to fight. The sticks form limbs, small splinters of wood create fingers and toes. The cyclone continues, picking up items in its path creating hair, teeth, a mouth and a nose.

BOOM! The light of the world flashes and Krata and Jimineas see something standing there. The figure says, "I am life, and you created me." Jimineas and Krata ask Life, to solve their argument which is better dark and cold or light and warmth. Life responds, "I came from light and dark, good and bad so I need both to survive." Krata and Jimineas decide to compromise and so when day ends night begins and life is created.

Dear Editor:

Dear editor,

I am writing this letter because I am concerned about the eco system. We have trash all over the earth there are people littering and trash all over the forests. It's like we live in a city dump all I'm trying to say is that we need to go green. We could start by not littering and pick up any trash you see. You could also recycle and reuse, don't waste paper because if you waste paper then they have to cut down more trees and you reduce our oxygen and we need oxygen to survive. This is a very serious matter and you'd be amazed on what we can accomplish if we work together.

Love,

Venus Twum

Dear Venus,

I fully agree with you. We should all do our part to help the environment. Ask your parents to change their light bulbs to the lower watt bulbs that are eco friendly. Shut the water off while you brush your teeth and ride your bike or walk to your friend's house. Together we can make a difference.

This Edition’s Mystery Teacher

Today’s mystery teacher is a male. His favorite color is blue. His favorite singers are Fergie and Beyonce. Also he likes the subject of Math. He said if he wasn’t a teacher he would be a police officer. He went to Worcester State College. He also has a goal and it is for his students to learn. His favorite music is a little bit of everything even 80’s rock and roll. Who do you think is this edition’s “Rock and Roll” loving teacher?

The Unveiling of Leonardo’s Horse

Thank goodness that it is a beautiful day out so that we are able to see the wondrous creature Leonardo da Vinci has created. Today Leonardo made history. I hope this horse stays here forever. It is a miracle he finally made what we thought he couldn’t make. Leonardo is a legend because he made a beautiful horse. I wonder what the great Leonardo will do next. Who would ever imagine creating a 24 foot model of a horse out of clay. The year Leonardo created his invention was in 1493. The Duke was surprised from the 20 foot horse and da Vinci was happy. What a miracle he made. After Leonardo made his horse, people believed that he was a true clay maker. The color of it is so sweet.
